the Middle District of Tennessee, JAMES W. BROWN of Tennessee, for the Western District of Tennessee,
The selection of Carter B. Harrison, brother of the President, as Marshal for the Middle District of Tennessee, was arged by the people of that section of the State, among whom he has lived for many years.
He is several years younger than the President, and resides with his family at Murfreesboro', where he has been located since the close of the rebellion. Marshal Harrison served with credit and distinction in the Union Army, and came out of the war rison served with credit and distinction in the Union Army, and came out of the war a captain, and has been a successful business man in the community where he resides. There was no other applicant for the position and the appointment gives general satisfaction among Tennessecans, a large party of whom called at the White House to-day to thank the President for his action. All doubt as to the condition of Secretary Blaine's health was set at rest this forenoon when he made his appearance at the White House with the New Englah Minister, Sir Julian Pauncefote, for presentation to the President. Great Britain's envoy, aheavy-set, florid-complexioned gentleman, with the inevitable side-whiskers affected by Britons, formed a striking contrast to the American premier, whose step was as springy as ever, al-

Paddy Ryan Knocked Down Three Times by a 150-Pound Reporter.

San Fhancisco, May 3.—Paddy Ryan, ex-elampion heavy-weight, was knocked out Wednesday night by a newspaper reporter weighing about 150 pounds. Ryan insulted Wells, the reporter, who knocked him down three times on the sidewalk.
Ryan was shally rescued by his friends.
His face was so badly bruised that he did not appear yesterday at the saloon where he is employed as a beuncer.

A Steady Trend of Feeling Toward the Grand Old Man's Cause.

London, May 3.—An interview with Mr. William S. Cline, Unionist member of Parlisment for Barrow-in-Furness, leaves the impression that he would like to declare himself for Mr. Gladstone and home rule, but that he does not yet feel able to leave his friends on the other side of the House. There has been going on quietly within a short time a revulsion of feeling among the Unionists, generally outside the absolute leaders of the party, toward Mr. Gladstone and the cause the Grand Old Man so gallantly supports. Since the Birmingham fight and the exchange of bitter letters between Chamberlain and Churchill, many of the Unionists whose interest in their party was languid at best are about willing to seize upon almost any pretext to get out of the anomalous position in which they find themselves. Mr. Craine is one of these, but he apparently lacks the stamina to make the leap. He said that it was possible that he might retire shortly; that he could not desert his friends. If many others who find themselves in the same condition as Mr. Craine would resign, Gladstonians feel that this would open the way for their seats to be occupied by Home Rulers. A movement is on foot now looking to this very object, as it is believed that before the next session of Parliament the seats now occupied by some of the Unionists will be empty and ready for contesting.

The statement is made on the best of authority that Mr. W. H. Smith will not resign the leadership of the House of Commons during this session.

Mr. R. T. Reid, Q. C., is lecturing on his plan for the better housing of the poor. He wants to give the County Council the power to build wellings for 100,000 people in different parts of London, and to raise the money for this purpose by a tax of one pence in the pound on all rents. Mr. Reid is receiving a great deal of attention from the audiences he addresses, and hopes for good to result from his efforts.

The London School Board has presented a petition to the Home ioned gentleman, with the inevitable side-whickers affected by Britons, formed a striking contrast to the American premier, whose step was as springy as ever, although he was a trille paler than a week ago. In response to a greeting by The Chitic representative, Secretary Blaine stated that he was in excellent health and glad to get out again after his enforced confinement for a week or so. All traces of lumbago had, he said, disappeared and he would be found at the State Department as usual, attending to his duties. Word was sent upstairs to the President that the distinguished party, which consisted of Sir Julian Pauncefote, Secretary Blaine, Mr. Edwards and several attaches of the English Legation, and Mr. Walker Blaine, were awaiting him in the Blue Parlor. Accompanied by Private Secretary Blaine, were awaiting him in the Blue Parlor. Accompanied by Private Secretary Blaine, were awaiting him in the Blue Parlor. Accompanied by Private Secretary Blaine, were awaiting him in the Blue Parlor. Accompanied by Private Secretary Halford, the President shortly afterward came down stairs and joined his visitors. After the formal presentation, Sirulian delivered a short address in which he expressed his gratification at being sent to the United States as a diplomatic representative at a time when the country was eclebrating its centennial, and concluded with the hope that the amity at present existing between the two great Anglo-Saxon Governments would be continued.

After Secretary Blaine had introduced Sir Julian the latter stepped forward, and addressing the President, said:

Mr. President: I have the honor to place in your hand a letter from the Queen, my august Sovereign, accrediting me as her Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary. 4c the United States. In fullfiling this pleasing duty. I desire to express my sense of the distinguished character and importance of the mission which Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to confide to me, and to assure you that no effort shall be wanting on my part wor

Miss Nannita Daisy's Oklahoma Claim Jumped by a Had Man.

GUTHRIE, I. T., May 3.—A strong under current of feeling was displayed here yesterday over the plat of the city as laid off by the city council. It appears that in order to satisfy the greed of certain settlers, some of the streets were made much narrower than others, and some of the blocks twice as long as others. This plat of the city was made public yesterday. The marshal, who, by the way, has secured two corner lots for himself, began vesterday to clear streets of such obstructions as tents and frame buildings. As a consequence some have become suddenly aware that they are living in the streets. Those that were forced out of the streets immediately proceeded to jump other people's lots. Several people were hung in effigy, and men walked about with Winchesters. No trouble occurred, however, and it is safe to say that the good sense that pervades the community will prevent any serious affray.

Miss Nannita Daisy, the Oklahoma lady boomer, was shot through the arm by a Santa Fe engincer named Stafford who had jumped ber claim. Miss Daisy was making a visit to her claim after filing on it and was met by stafford, who fired three shots at her. She is not seriously injured, however, Miss Daisy has friends who have resolved to see her rights protected. It is said Stafford abondoned his englie before 12 o'clock Monday in order to stake out the claim.

Secretary Tracy has determined to give coll boilers a thorough practical trial, in order to test their qualities for generating steam for naval vessels. Secretary Whitney took some steps toward making this test during his administration, and some of the boiler builders had actually constructed boilers to be tested, but as Secretary Whitney's term was drawing to a close the matter was postponed. Coil boilers have already been introduced into some of the vessels of the French Navy, but they have hardly had a satisfactory test as yet. The chief advantages claimed for them is that they save a great deal of space and weight, two very important factors in the construction of a war vessel. kindly sentiments toward Her Majesty and her people. Baltimore, May 3.—The little residence of Charles Williams at Abington, a station on the Philadelphia Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Harford, was burned to the ground last night and four of his children were cremated. Williams was an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio, and his family consisted of his wife and five children, the youngest being a babe in its mother's arms. The family all retired at about 0 o'clock. About 11 o'clock some of Williams' neighbors aw stames leaping from the windows of the lower floor of his house. The fire spread so quickly over the frame building that nothing could be done to save the limates. When the neighbors reached the house they saw Williams and his wife, with her baby in her arms, leaping from the second story. They were severely burned. The other four children were burned to death in their beds. Their ages ran from 6 to 15 years.

IMMORAL MACHINES.

Little Willie Diggs' Unsuccessful Ef-forts to Get Ahead of a Slot Machine.

Little Willie Diggs unst to Sundayschool last Sunday, and while he was there another boy gave him a little piece of lead cut round like a penny. It was Willie's passion for chewing-gum that led him astray. He went straight to a drop-a-centin-the-slot-and-get-a-piece-of-chewing-gummachine in front of a confectionery store on O street. He had dropped the bogus penny in, but it wouldn't work. Just then his Sunday-school teacher came along and said: "Willie Diggs, what have you been dolog; you just left Sunday-school and at this work."

William hung his head, and the owner of the machine, a man named Wilson, took him in charge and locked him up for an hour or so in his house and demanded $10 before he would release him. The boy's mother came and gave him $5, saying it was all she could raise. Lieutenant Hefiner notified him that he had no right to demand money from the woman, and Wilson returned the $5. In the Police Court he said that he merely wanted the money left as collateral for the boy's appearance.

Wilson explained that the cent must be perfect as to size and weight in order to make the machine work, and Judge Miller remarked that it was about an even chance whether the boy got his chewing gum or not.

"These machines," he said, "are a stand-

gum or not.

"These machines," he said, "are a stand-ing invitation to these boys to become ras-

"Have you had much trouble of this kind?" the Court asked.
"Here's about half of what I've taken out of the machine," replied Wilson, taking a handful of bits of lead from his pocket.
The piece that Willie used had the Imprint of a cent mashed into it, possibly with the idea that this would help to fool the machine. This fact would have made Willie lable for passing counterfeit money.
The charge against him was larceny, and he had a marrow escape from going to jail. The Court decided in view of his youth not to put a record against him and his personal bond was taken.

THE CARTER SCANDAL.

Chicago's Salacious Divorce Suit Still Draws Crowds.

Chicago, May 3.—The usual morning scenes of the Carter scandal were gone through with to-day before Bailiff Sutherland escorted Judge Jamieson from the latter's private room to the bench. Everybody was on hand early and the crowdlighting for entrance was even larger than usual. The depositions read yesterday only whetled the desire of the morbid for more of the same kind. The first business of the day was the Court's decision on the application made by Judge Smith yesterday for leave to strike out of the amended bill the clause alleging that Carter furnished plaintiff with no money wherewith to pay the cost of her European trip, but that she was obliged to take money from her mother and a lady friend. The object of this move was to prevent the offering in evidence by the defense of a number of depositions relative to Mrs. Carter's expenditures in Europe and New York. The evidence is very sensational.

BISHOP POTTER'S STRONG CEN-TENNIAL SERMON.

phere is Vulgar-Likes President Jackson but Disapproves of His

NEW YORK May 3.—Bishop Potter has been much criticised for his use of the phrase that "Jeffersonian simplicity means Jacksonian vulgarity" during his centensial sermon. In an interview yesterday he explained the remark as follows:

"Vulgarity, as I used it, did not refer to manners, but to the political atmosphere. Vulgar means 'common.' The manners of the people may be very high but the moral tone very low. Look at some countries in Europe," and the Bishop named them. "Now, you catch the idea. I am no 'mugwinmp. I've been a Republican all my fife, but I hate 'taffy' and platitudes. Besides, there were plenty who were sure to pay sounding compliments to Mr. Harrison and the Nation that honors him. I wasn't needed for that. Apply what I did regarding my estimate of the Presidential office to the present situation. How much time has Harrison given to statesmanship? Not an hour—not an instant; so far as any one knows. He was put where he is to maintain the Nation's digality, to protect the rights of the poor and rich, to rule, not to engage in barter and trade. But, also, what a spectacle we have. We behold the President of the United States of America intent only on getting Congressmen out of the house at night so that he can go to bed. What's the use of beating about the bush in this matter? It makes me very tired."

"Then you had no thought of assailing the personal character of Andrew Jackson?"

"Not in the slightest," replied Bishop Potter," but I cannot forget that under the Jackson regime the inteful diction was pronounced to the victors belong the apells."

A QUEER CASE. Was the Man Shot, or Did he Shoot Himself?

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 3.—A queer shooting case occurred at Msin and Balcom streets last night. About 10 o'clock a man, who gave his name as Patrick A. Nealon, and said he came here from Binghamton last Wednesday, was found on the sidewalk with two bullets in his head. He was removed to the general heavilal where one walk with two bullets in his head. He was removed to the general hospital, where one of the bullets was removed from the top of his head, it having passed through his temple. The other bullet, which had passed in at the ear, could not be found. Nealon told the officers that he had been shot by Charles Sergeant, a saloon-keeper, in whose place he had a room. He said Sergeant accompanied him upstairs, and when his began undressing Sergeant pulled a revolver and fired three shots at him and then grabbed him and pulled him down stairs and out on the sidewalk. Nealon claimed they had no quarrel. Sergeant, on the other hand, claims that he left Nealon in his room and on his feturn down stairs heard a fall. He returned to the room and found Nealon snapping a revolver. Sergeant grappled with him and carried him to the street. Nealon's wounds are serious. Sergeant is under arrest.

This Afternoon.

For Prizes.

The low hanging clouds kept lots of peo-ple away from Ivy City to-day, but there were lots more enthusiastic race admirers who went, and good sport was given them.

The grand stand was comfortably filled, and there was lots of money went over the rails of the bookmakers' stalls on the pool lawn. And gradually, flake by flake, a snowstorm of pool tickets, torn in piece fluttered down on the planks.

growd, and there were lots of tasteful bo nets on the grand stand.

First race-Purse of $400, of which $75 to cond, three-quarters of a mile: Dave S. (00, Griffin; Wild Cherry, 94, Lewis; Brait, 113, Whyburn; Tom Kearns, 110, Murray; Tom Hood, 113, Littleffeld.

Brait was the winner of the first race at Ivy City to-day, but he had to work hard for it. Tom Hood pressed him close and it looked as though he would win, but on the ome stretch Brait came to time in great shape and passed the grand stand a length ahead. The start was none of the best. Brait got the start at the beginning, but she did not keep it to the quarter, for Hood forged ahead a length and then Tom Kearns passed the winner by half a length. But Whyburn used the lash and before the half was reached had got second place, Andrews making a strong pull for first. Soen after passing the half he succeeded in pulling Brait at the head of the line, and in the homestretch increased the lead to a length. Once during the race it looked as if Kearns would do something worth the while, and certainly get se as usual, had been behaving very badly. but it takes a mile run to get him in shape. Tom Hood was a good second, and to the surprise of many people Dave 8, proved a tallender. Time 1;187. Brait paid 2 for 5, and Tom Hood 3 for 5. Second Race-The National Handicap, $1,000 added, of which $200 to second and $100 to third, 1h miles.

Anderson: Bordelaise, 104, Bergen. Nine horses were listed in this race, but one after the other this afternoon. It was jockeys who have been rivals for a long time, and was intended to settle the question as to which was the better horse. It looks as if the other horses were withdrawn to give them a fair chance. Borde-laise got the start, but did not keep it and took the lead, keeping it to the finish. Gradually she drew away from her rival. First half a length, then a length, then two. Frenchman labored hard to close the gap, but it was not to be done and Oriflamme went under the wire two score feet ahead of her solitary rival. It was not the great race the knowing ones had said it would be and people were disappointed. Time, Third Race—A handicap sweepstakes,  $\pm 500$  added, of which \$100 to second,  $\bar{x}$  of s mile. King Idle, 103, Martin; Iago, 98, Haywood; Fannie H., 98, Jones; Newcastle, 93, Field.

By a nose! That's how King Idle won the third race at Ivy City to-day. He didn't get that until they were in the home stretch, race. It lay between Jago and the winner and they were the Javorites with every one. though Newcastle was given out as a quiet tip. Not many took it, however, and it was a surprise when she came in second. Fanny H, took the lead at the start, but she didn't keep it for over two rods. Ingo passing her almost immediately up the tail-end of the procession. At the quarter lago was one length ahead, but before the half was reached blle had over-taken her. The other wrested it from her, when the King went shead with a rush and Ingo was disgusted and let Newcastle take second place. Fanny was nowhere. Time, 1:201. King Idle sold 2 for 5, Newcastle, 7

Fourth race, purse $400, of which $75 to record; one mile—Blue Line, 112, Johnson; Massillon, 103, O'Rourke; Iceberg, 89, Whyburn. Panama first, Iceberg second. This is the result of the fourth race at Ivy City today. Panama had it all her own way from start to finish and kept the lead from the beginning to end with the greatest case winning by five lengths. He didn't have to work very hard for the victory, though at the quarter, however, the winner got a lead of one length and constantly increased it

It looked as if Blue Line was good bunch behind Panama, but on the ho stretch Iceberg, who all along had been h id, braced up and passed her. Massillon and Ultimatum didn't have the ghost of a chance, and came in away behind the others. Time, 1:483. Panama sold 2 for 5.

Fifth Bace-Purse $400, of which $100 to tecond, s ceplechase. Elphin, 170, Billings; Jake Shipsey, 138, Ward; Menimore, 138, Green; Killarney, 135, Updyke; Lighthouse

Jake Shipsey won the steeplechase with ease. He started third, but, before the second fence was reached, he took the lead and kept it to the finish, winning by about four lengths. Eiphin was the only horse that pressed him close and would, no doubt' have given him more trouble, but he fell and thus lost his chance. He came in a good second, however Updyke, known among the sporting men, as "Monley Charles" and Killere the as "Monkey Charley," rode Killarney. She bolted at the fifth fence, throwing the tockey. He struck on his head and sustained dangerous injuries. He was carried to the stables and phygicians summoned, but up to the time of going to press he had not regained consciousness. Elphin was the favorite of the talent, and up to the time she fell kept the lead. Stipsey paid 6 for 5, Elphin 7 for 5.

At Clifton, CLIPTON, L. I., May 3.—The close of the Centennial at New York affected the attendance at the course to-day, and it was oot so large as other days this week. The track was a trifle heavy.
First Race—Sandy first, Claussa second, Jessie Rank third. Time, 1:25§.

See and Race-Revolt first, Obelisk and, Lakewood third. Time, 1:184. Third Race—Tattler first, First Attempt second, Mist third. Time, 1:311. Fourth race—Perfeles first, Singlestone second, Ocean third. Time 3:25.

A PRINCE AT THE MARKET. His Cook Changed, and Now He Mar-kets Himself.

Kets Himself.

Yesterday there might have been seen in the Centre Market a gentleman with a thoroughly distingue air, accompanied by a lady richly dressed and evidently a typical representative of the elite. With heads creet and gracious dignity in every step, they went from stall to stall making selections and looking over the goods offered by the various vendors with the air of comolsscurs. They were Prince and Madame Bonaparte, who last Wednesday discharged their French chaf, who had been with them for sixteen years. A colored man and his wife have been employed in his place.

Reports About Offices There was a report on the street last night that Mr. Meredith would be appointed Pub-lic Printer at the end of the discal year, such that Hon. Charles E. No Better at Home Than Anywhere Else.

Other League Games in Other Cities --Healy and Mack the Home Club's Battery. Madden and Kelly at the Points for the Visitors.

The gilt-edged combination from Boston, with its Detroit contingent, appeared at Capitol Park this afternoon and showed up in first-class style during the practice. The ex-Detroiters have lost none of their cunning in the manipulation of the sphere, and assist materially in making up a very strong infield for the Bostons. and Kelly occupied the points for the visitors, while Healy and Mack looked after the interests of the home team. O'Brien played first base and Manager Morrili third. It was O'Brien's opportunity to distinguish bimself; he realized it, and made the most of it. The attendance was fair considering the disagreeable, chilly weather which baseball patrons are forced to brave in order to witness the game. The game opened at 4:30 with the Washingtons at the bat. Little Hoy went first and was retired on three strikes. Shoch was struck by a pitcher's ball and went to first. Carney struck an easy grounder to Brouthers and was retired at first, while Shech took second. Wise struck out, this closing the inning, leaving Shoch at second! In the visitors' half of the inning Brown hit safely for a base, took second and third on a passed bali. Johnston struck out, Kelly hit a lovely fly to Hoy, who took it in, but falled to get it to Mack in time to estch Brown, who secred. Brouthers took his base on balls, but was put out while trying to steal second. Total for inning, Boston, 1; Washington, 0. O'Brien was first at the bat in the second and received considerable applause as he stepped to the plate. He struck a long fly to Johnston, who caught it. Morrill hit for a base. Myers struck to Madden and was thrown out at first. A passed ball adin through an error by Nash, who threw low passed ball, but was left there by Healy, who struck an easy one to Richardson. Richardson went out at fir t, Nash ditto. Quinn retired his side by striking out. Total for second inning, Washington 1, Boston 0.

Hoy was first at the bat in the third and struck a high fly to Richardson, who cap at first. Ganzel, in the second half of the third inning, struck a fly to Healy, who caught it. Madden struck out. Brown struck a beautiful three-bagger over centrefly was eleverly taken in by Hoy. Total for inning: Washington, 0; Boston, 0.

Wise, first batter in the fourth, struck oct. O'Brien was retired at first. Carney flew out to Richardson. The great and only Kelly was thrown out at first. Brouthers hit for a base. Richardson struck out, and Mack hit for third base but Quinn struck out leaving men on second and third. Total for inning, Washington, 0;

Fifth inning-Myers diel at first, Mack did likewise, Healy hit for a base between short and third, Hoy hit safely, advancing Healy to second. Quinn's fumble of Shoch's hit filled the bases, but Carney ruined the chances for a score by flying out. Ganzel took first on Wise's error. Madden struck to one, Ganzell was forced out at home plate

Rigid Cross-Examination.

Jackson, Mich., May 3.—In the trial yesterday of R. Irving Latiner, charged with the murder of his mother, the defending was on the witness-stand all day and subjected to a most searching cross-examination. The remarkable merve of the witness never descried him. In the main he stuck to the story he told Wednesday. He accused to be endowed with an instinctive knowledge of how the procedulou intended to entrap him and generally folled their attempts. Before the adjournment of court the prosecution asked leave to place seven hew witnesses on the information, and the court granted the request. These witnesses are expected to rebut some portions of Latiner's evidence.

Weather Indications.

Light local showers, followed by warmer, fair on Saturday; westerly winds.
